REPORT NUMBER INDEX

The numbers assigned to all reports cited in the publication appear in the first column of the index. Cross reference information and/or availability are included as appropriate. Abbreviations used in the availability column are elaborated at the end of the index. To expedite the filling of orders for reports from NTIS and TIC, an order number in the form, DE82000001, appears in column 3. Requesters are urged to use this order number where provided. In column 4, one or more DOE distribution categories are indicated, e.g. , STD-10, MN-25. STD indicates distribution was made in full-size copy; MN indicates microcopy distribution. These category numbers are included to assist DOE librarians in responding to requests for reports in their collections. The UC (Unclassified Distribution Categories) are defined in DOE/TIC-4500, available from TIC. The citation numbers are given in column 5. NOTE: DOE attempts to disseminate its information as broadly as possible. Even though a report may contain some degree of illegibility, it is believed that the report may still make a contribution. The presence of a superscript (1, 2, or 3) following NTIS in the availability column denotes the extent to which a report may be illegible and the form in which it is available: (1) = 1 to 5% illegibility, available PC and MF; (2) = 6 to 10% illegibility, available MF only; (3) = 11% or more illegibility, available PC only.

RADIOACTIVE DECAY DATA TABLES

A Handbook for Application to Radiation Dosimetry and Radiological Assessments

David C. Kocher
Oak Ridge National Laboratory
Oak Ridge, Tennessee

The estimation of radiation dose to man from either external or internal exposure to radionuclides requires a knowledge of the energies and intensities of the atomic and nuclear radiations emitted during the radioactive decay process. The availability of evaluated decay data for the large number of radionuclides of interest is thus of fundamental importance for radiation dosimetry.

Decay data are listed for approximately 500 radionuclides, which include those occurring naturally in the environment, those of potential importance in routine or accidental releases from the nuclear fuel cycle, those of current interest in nuclear medicine and fusion reactor technology, and some of those of interest to Committee 2 of the International Commission on Radiological Protection for the estimation of annual limits on intake via inhalation and ingestion for occupationally exposed individuals. This handbook supersedes Report ORNL/NUREG/TM-102, which was concerned only with radionuclides from the nuclear fuel cycle.

CONTENTS: Introduction; Review of Radioactive Decay Processes; Preparation of Radioactive Decay Data Sets; Computer Code MEDLIST and Description of Tables of Radioactive Decay Data; Applications of Decay Data to Radiation Dosimetry and Radiological Assessments; Parent-Daughter Activity Ratios; Accuracy of the Data and Uncertain Decay Schemes; Appendix 1: Symbols and Definitions; Appendix 2: Index to Tables of Radioactive Decay Data Sets; Appendix 3: References for Radioactive Decay Data Sets; Appendix 4: Diagrams of Radioactive Decay Chains; Appendix 5: Tables of Radioactive Decay Data.
